Manny Alvarez of the Student Section Report is writing for OCVarsity about the high school student sections during the football season.

UPDATE: The OCVarsity Top 40 Football Student Section Rankings will be released the week of the CIF-SS football finals (Nov. 25), and for the second year in a row the O.C. champion will receive a championship banner. The banner will be presented at halftime of the Orange County All-Star Football game Feb. 5 at Newport Harbor School.

We'll be choosing a Student Section of the Week for two more weeks — Week 10 of the regular season and the first round of the playoffs. Make the most of those two opportunities to earn a spot in the OC Top 40 rankings.

The El Dorado Hawks Nest entertained everyone Friday night when they hosted rival Esperanza on "Toga Night."

The Hawks Nest has been at the top of its game this season, and it was rocking for its Week 9 football game.

The Hawks Nest was loud and energetic all night, and there was even some crowd surfing, which is historically inaccurate, but we'll let that slide.

All of that helped El Dorado defeat Esperanza 52-14.

While the El Modena Rowdy Rooters had a big night Thursday, the El Dorado Hawks Nest had a bigger one and that's why they are the OCVarsity Student Section of the Week for Week 9.

"The Hawks Nest this year is remembering it's roots," El Dorado Activities Director Eron Campuzano said. "For over a decade we've been innovative and pushed ourselves to not just be at a game, but to be a part of it. From togas to toilet paper games we have always believed that it's our entire campus, students, staff, and community that gets to enjoy the ride. EDHS is the Nest and that's home for everyone. As Golden Hawks we believe that Spirit Never Sleeps! Shout out to every kid who goes above and beyond for their school, the kids who are
